

SUNY-wide Support for Faculty

1. Drop-in Instructional Design Support Sessions Beginning Today

As described in our academic continuity webinar, we have organized live, drop-in, sessions via Zoom video conference to assist faculty with remote course preparation which began today. Staff are available, live, now to assist! Sessions will be staffed with instructional designers and online learning professionals to assist with faculty questions. We anticipate questions about how to move face-to-face activities, assignments, assessments, etc., into a manageable, online learning experience for your students. Staff are available at the days and times listed below:

- Monday - Friday 7:00AM - 12:00AM Midnight EST
- Saturday 10:00AM - 5:00PM EST
- Sunday 1:00PM - 9:00PM EST

To join a live, drop-in web meeting visit: <https://zoom.us/j/160815050>

2. Register Today for Sessions in the SUNY Remote Teaching Clinic

Upcoming webinars, which begin 3/17, are organized into two categories: Technical Training and Remote Instruction Skills. The Clinic webpage has a third tab that will house recordings of each webinar if you can't attend or miss a session.

Current offerings in Technical Training focus on utilization of Blackboard. Offerings in Remote Instruction are more content and process based:

- Effective Online & Distance Teaching in the Visual and Performing Arts: Dr. Nicola Marae Allain
- Natural Sciences at a Distance: Making the Move and Meeting the Learning Outcomes: Audeliz Matias, Catherine Gleason, Sujatha Kadaba, & Mary Mawn
- Advising Remotely: Tips and Tricks for Advising Students from a Distance: Dr. Michele Forte and Dr. Larry Dugan
- Coping Strategies for Remote Instructors: Dr. Michele Forte
- Best Practices for Online Paper Submissions and Grading: Mary Seel

Register today! New offerings will be posted regularly. You can even make a request for certain topic and we'll work to find a SUNY expert, just fill out this workshop request form.

As a reminder, these faculty training resources and more are posted on:

<https://innovate.suny.edu/community/covid19/>.